

THE MAN IN THE MOON

THE Man in the MOON

ORIGINAL POEM BY MASHA KALÉKO

TRANSLATED FROM DER MANN IM MOND

ORIGINAL POEM BY MASHA KALÉKO

TRANSLATION BY ANDREAS NOLTE

ILLUSTRATIONS BY CLAIRE ZIMMERMAN

PRINTED & BOUND IN TRIER, GERMANY

2015

THE Man in the MOON

MAN IN THE MOON
HANGS COLORED DREAMS, SEE

SPUN BY HIS MOON WIFE
OUT OF LIGHT.

At Dusk into the evening trees
his face smiling
every night.

THERE ARE SOME
RED AND GREEN AND YELLOW

AND DREAMS
COMPLETELY IN SKY BLUE.

WITH GOLD.

SOME DARING
OTHERS MELLOW

FOR BOY, GIRL

MAN, WOMAN, TOO,

AND EVEN DREAMS THAT TAKE YOU
TRAVELING

TO LANDS
ADVENTUROUS AND NEW.

ON SILVERY
STRINGS
THEY HANG
THERE WAVING

AND ONE is just FOR you!

